DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The specification appears to be a direct translation, containing numerous grammatical errors. For example, the specification uses the word "slided" where the term --slid-- is the proper tense.

Appropriate correction is required.

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the abstract is too long. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "higher order unit" must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

Claim 7 is objected to because of the following informalities: Claim 7 recites that the angle is between "about 5% and about 10%" which is inconsistent with the specification, which uses units of degrees. The Examiner suggests that the claims be amended to use degrees for consistency with the specification. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 recites "at least one throughgoing hole" for which there is no antecedent basis. It is unclear if applicant intends to claim "at least one throughgoing opening" which there is antecedent basis for, or if applicant is intending to claim a new feature.

Claim 4 recites the limitation "substantially completely circular arc shaped" which is indefinite because it is unclear how a shape can be "substantially completely". It would seem as if it is completely arc shaped, or it is not.

Claim 9 recites the limitation "a narrowing shape", which is indefinite because it is unclear what shape is being claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 1 and 5, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Applicant's admitted prior art Figure 8.

Figure 8 discloses a linear guidance device, comprising an elongated guiding rail having an upper surface and at least one throughgoing opening extending from said upper surface for receiving a mounting element for mounting said guiding rail on a higher order unit; a guidance car displaceably guided on said guiding rail in a longitudinal direction of said guiding rail, a cover band attachable to the upper surface of said guiding rail and covering said at least one throughgoing hole, said cover band being formed so that a limiting line of at least one of free ends of said cover band is formed so that when a point of the cover band which is located in said longitudinal direction of said guiding rail at a greatest distance forwardly is in alignment with a boundary line of said at least one throughgoing opening in a direction extending substantially orthogonally to a plane of said cover band, a portion of said limiting line extending from said point at its side facing away from a longitudinal central plane of said cover band is arranged completely outside of said boundary line of said throughgoing opening.

Regarding claim 5, the limiting line has at least one rectilinearly extending portion.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-4 and 6-9 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
